

The 2021 Esogetic Colorpuncture™ Professional Certification Course

Dear Friends,

This flyer contains the information you will need to register for the 2021 Professional Certification Course. If you have any questions or particular concerns, please contact us. We will be happy to assist you in joining this training and empowering yourself to become a professional practitioner of this wonderful light healing technology.

Course Content

This extensive and up-to-date professional certification course will cover a large body of therapies, diagnostic techniques (with the exclusion of Kirlian EEA), as well as extensive theoretical information. Due to the pandemic, the 2021 training will be offered completely online. The training was recently revised to include the newest treatment protocols and treatment concepts. It provides a thorough foundation of knowledge for the professional practice of Esogetic Colorpuncture. There will be practice in treatment administration, training in the use of various Esogetic tools, discussion of treatment impact and clinical applications, case presentations and opportunities for personal experience with the treatments. Training topics which will be addressed include:

- Methods for energy-information diagnosis, including face, tongue and iris assessment, body palpation techniques, and the Esogetic 4+1 diagnostic system.
- Theories and treatments relevant to the three basic energetic states of: Endocrine (hormonal imbalance), Toxic (related to lymphatic regulation and detoxification) and Degenerative (related to chronic health situations) based upon Mandel’s Kirlian EEA research.
- Colorpuncture therapies for the physical, emotional and spiritual aspects of the 5 Function Circles or paired meridians.
- Therapies for the energetic regulation of brain and nervous system function, including the Esogetic brain wave induction therapies.
- Specific treatments using spectral, soul-spirit colors, crystals, ultraviolet, infrared and grey light frequencies.
- Psycho-spiritual therapies for clearing negative parental imprints, balancing inner masculine and feminine energies, clearing the impact of prenatal and birth trauma, and surfacing and resolving unconscious emotional conflicts.
- Protocols to support mind/body healing for a wide variety of symptoms, including: migraines, bone and joint pain, immune issues, ear and eye ailments, central nervous system and autoimmune disorders, pain relief, arthritis, lung and bronchial disorders, depression, allergies and much more.

COURSE INSTRUCTORS:

Manohar Croke is Director of the Institute and has been teaching this work to a wide variety of alternative healing practitioners nationwide for 29 years. Manohar is also trained in trauma resolution therapy, holds an MA in Transpersonal Psychology and maintains a private practice in Boulder, CO where she combines colorpuncture with psychotherapy and life coaching. She recently published her own book entitled Energy Psychology Using Light and Color, which introduces colorpuncture concepts and methods to psychologists and psychotherapists.

Cornelia Elsaesser originally trained as a pediatric nurse in Germany and then, as a Heilpraktiker, the German equivalent of a naturopathic doctor. She began her training in Esogetic Colorpuncture in 1999 and completed an internship in the Mandel Clinic before moving to the US. She maintains an active private practice in Minneapolis, MN and has been teaching professional certification trainings for the U.S. Esogetic Colorpuncture Institute in Minnesota and Pennsylvania since 2016.

Jennifer Jones, MS, LPC, CSAT, CSOT is a licensed psychotherapist, a certified EMDR therapist and consultant, EMDR HAP Facilitator and EMDRIA approved trainer, as well as a Certified Esogetic Colorpuncture Practitioner. She specializes in treatment of trauma and addiction issues in adults and children. Her current work is providing trauma healing, including holistic therapies, through Be the Change Global Wellness in Puerto Rico and Milwaukee. She is currently a teacher-in-training for the U.S. Esogetic Colorpuncture Institute.

About the Certification Process:

Your certification will be based upon passing an examination offered at the final class meeting, as well as your participation in all portions of the training. Upon successful completion of these requirements, you will receive certification as an Esogetic Colorpuncture Practitioner from the U.S. Esogetic Colorpuncture Institute and the International Mandel Institute. Certification authorizes you to practice this modality professionally and to use the trademark name “Esogetic Colorpuncture™” in your advertising. It also enables you to participate in advanced colorpuncture workshops, as well as in our website practitioner listings, referral network and online treatment information services.

Course Fees and Payment Plan:

A registration fee/deposit of $100 is required to register for this course. If you are accepted into the training, this deposit will be considered non-refundable and will be applied toward the total course cost. If you are not accepted, the deposit will be returned in full. If you pay for the course completely at or before the April 2021 class, the total course cost is $3,825. This includes the certification fees for the International Mandel Institute. If you prefer, a payment plan is also available. If you pay for the class in payments, the total cost is $4025 and the payment schedule is outlined in the attached Student Agreement.

Submitting Your Registration:

A registration form, an application questionnaire and a student agreement form are all included with this brochure. Please complete the forms and submit them with your deposit. A personal interview with Manohar or Cornelia is required as part for the registration process. If you have any concerns or questions regarding the schedule or payment plan, please feel free to talk to us. Call 530-362-6908 or email info@colorpuncture.org.

How Esogetic Colorpuncture Can Enhance Your Healing Practice

“Colorpuncture has greatly enriched my professional skills by giving me numerous tools and protocols that truly address the deep causative layer of complaints and symptoms. Even in the field of alternative healing, the esogetic approach is unique, because it addressees all levels of the human experience in one comprehensive system with the primary intent to allow the individual life purpose to assert itself more clearly and freely. “

- W. Heppe ND, DOM, Doctor of Naturopathic and Oriental Medicine

“After 12 years of doing massage therapy, I saw Colorpuncture as a less physically demanding option that I could still incorporate with my bodywork. I discovered that Colorpuncture really enabled my clients to go to deeper levels and discover the inner answers to their own issues in a gentle and non-invasive way.”

- S. Kocina, Massage Therapist

“Colorpuncture addresses brain function specifically in ways that TCM does not.... I also found that Colorpuncture brings balance way beyond Yin and Yang, helps my clients to hold the benefits of any acupuncture treatment better, and enables them to get off their herbs much sooner without regressing into the chronicity of their condition.”

- P. Rose, Acupuncturist

“Used in conjunction with EMDR, Colorpuncture greatly increases the healing process by supporting the immune system or supporting the endocrine system, which are thrown off by trauma.”

- Jennifer Jones, MS, CCP, Licensed Professional Counselor
